 - Note: Qualified Tuition Reduction (QTR) cannot be used for Study Abroad.
 - Note: Active-Duty Tuition Assistance: Study Abroad is not eligible for the reduced tuition rate of $250/credit. Tuition Assistance can still be applied, but the student is responsible for covering the remaining portion.

University of Arizona Study Abroad will bill program charges to a student's University of Arizona Bursar's account in accordance with the Bursar's Office Dates and Deadlines for the appropriate study abroad term. Charges may appear on a student's Bursar's account in any combination of the following categories: TUIT (tuition) and OTHR (other).

Payment

- Students pay their accounts according to the University of Arizona Bursar's Office Payment Options.

- Late fees for past due balances will be assessed to the student's Bursar's account following the Bursar's Office policy on Past Due Accounts.
- Students whose accounts are delinquent will be subject to a past due balance charge, recovery of collection and legal costs, and withholding of university services. See the Bursar's Office policy on Holds and Collections.

Study Abroad Withdrawal Policy

Withdrawal from a Study Abroad Program

To withdraw from a study abroad program, students must notify their Study Abroad Coordinator AND complete and submit the online Study Abroad Withdrawal Form. Withdrawals are only considered official upon receipt of this form.

University of Arizona Study Abroad cannot guarantee that any portion of the fees owed or submitted will be refunded if a student withdraws from a program.

- The Study Abroad Office is required to make payments on behalf of program participants well in advance of the program start date and before program costs are charged to student accounts.
- Withdrawal consequences are dependent on the withdrawal date.

If a participant receiving financial aid withdraws from a study abroad program, the participant must contact the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid immediately, as withdrawal may affect the participant's financial aid eligibility.
